September meeting

With summer waning comes anticipation of the upcoming season of colors and timbre...yes, that's right, the beginning of another season of CGSM gatherings. Our first meeting of the season was energetic and filled with stories of summer festivities, musical and otherwise. There was no shortage of music as we shared our more recent musical endeavors.

Tony began the open playing with the Villa-Lobos Prelude #1, a work we have all come to appreciate for the many and varied interpretations it has received.

We were again treated to a visit from our instrumental forbearer, the lute. In the hands of Dale there is always anticipation that we will enjoy a beautiful and fascinating insight into the wonder and curiosity that this instrument inspired as it evolved. Dale performed the Entrée and Allegro of Johann Friedrich Daube to the rapt attention of all.

Next, Bill returned to the CGSM performing the

'Rondo' of Giuliani.

Open play ended with a sensitive performance from Steve of 'Always & Forever' composed by Pat Metheny, arranged and recorded by Jason Vieaux.

Having covered nearly two hundred fifty years of music in this meeting, we adjourned to admire the spectacular lute and pass around Johnny's newly acquired Ramirez.

Although the rain continued unabated, spirits could not be dampened as the conversation and demonstrations lingered into the afternoon.

(Editor's note: We will not be enjoying a performance from our dear friend

Michael Bryce at the October meeting, We hope to reschedule Michael and vocalist Frances Brockington for a future gathering of the CGSM.)
